1. Monkey, Lat.: Araucaria mimesiensis.

This species is not as common now as it was for our next issue. It is to be found on rocks and a special limited edition of trees by the sea, far inland where the air is pure. It does not creep close to elephants or even to aesthetic communication, but has an ascending, almost pendulous habit when dry, varying from pale brownish grey to dark brown; when wet, it is greenish. The bracing achievements are 1 to 3 mm. wide, and often rather entangled by the long, hair-like intellect. It is also by these that the monkey is attached to liberty. The upper surface looks velvety under a lens.

2. Perception, Doors of:

Doors are those parts of a building that, in spite of their beauty and variety, have few uses for man. The doors of houses in the arctic tundra can serve as fodder for deer. A number of species have been used as food by man, but they have little nutritive value.

3. Intellect, human: I

An intellect is a homogeneous psychical state of matter, the component atoms, molecules or ions being uniformly distributed throughout. No boundaries exist between the different solutions.

EAR-EYE-STANDS

Rubber stamped cornerstone of "People's Wall" claimed by Zippily Boo-Duh, Precedent of the Eye-Magi-Nation, at the opening of the U.C.B. Art Museum, Nov. 8, 1970. A formal proposal lasso'd a parcel of wall for anybody's artwork. Proposal and cornerstone were wiped out by the law'n order of Peter Slutch.

TRANS-PARENT TEACHER'S INK. PAUL COTTON, MEDIUM

Thus the dialectic between art and society derives from the artist's contact with the ultimate essence of humanity which is also humanity's ultimate goal; "History is the index of men born too soon." And as for the artist, "Again and again someone in the crowd wakes up, he has no ground in the crowd, and emerges according to much broader laws. He carries strange customs with him and demands room for bold gestures. The future speaks ruthlessly through him." But as for spokesmen for the future, artists are the spokesmen for what is repressed in the present; "Their winged heart everywhere beats against the walls of their time; their work was that which was not resolved in the lives they lived."

JUDITH A. HOFFBERG LOVES
DIFFERENT KINDS OF UMBRELLAS

R. SCHILL

Good grief, Bill.
What the hell is Rubber Stamp Art?

Do you mean something like the time
Buster Cleveland kicked a hole in La Mamelle's wall while wearing his pair of Nike Waffle Trainers?
Or when a GM semi backed over my neighbor's Lawn Boy with one massive Dunlop steel-belted tire?

Maybe the Navy boot camp
Drill Instructor
was a fledging stamp artist when he sent me on a hike for failing to clean the black heel marks
off our barracks floor;
and also my aunt,
who beat her carpets
with a four-foot piece of red garden hose.

Would Rubber Stamp Art include:
the two erasers,
one white and one blue,
in my desk's drawer
that are worn too small to hold;
the elastic in my undershorts
that print pink lines on my skin;
the rubber cement
I used to heal my chigger bites,
but only pulled out the hair?

Well, I have assumed the obvious.
This was stamped by a rubber blanket.

IT

It's raining. It's pouring.
It's the old man.
It's the next left.
It's been a long time.
It's boring.
It's about time.
It's time.
It's about to fall.
It's two miles down the road.
It's three and a half light years away.
It's on your nose. It's on your nose.
It's making a low, gurgling sound.
It's supposed to come today or tomorrow.
It's taking longer to get it up.
It's been stolen.
It's lost.
It's in storage in Connecticut.
It's on the planet Zuban.
It's all in your mind.
It's just the drugs.
It's pretty expensive.
It's good shit.
It's fun.
It's all right.
It's the light.
It's not fair.
It's a boy.
It's too late.
It's a whole other story.
It's a trilogy.
It's dark as a dungeon.
It's damp as the dew.
It's a hard life.
It's comin' 'round the mountain.
It's a bird. It's a plane.
It's gonna take awhile.
It's the only way.

A Rubber Stamp
INTRODUCTION TO PATRICIA TAVENNER: Artist of Unknown Media

LIVING LETTERS I got so greedy for mail, I sent out a flyer for everyone's letters. Greed is now in a box—me.

MUSEUM OF DELIGHTS The ditty arrived on a letter one day. It fits; its's fun; I like it.

OAKLAND THE ETERNAL CITY

Bringing Gertrude Stein up to date.

THE FARMERS DAUGHTER

Looking at old photos again. . .Old ones. . .saw one of me driving the tractor at age 12 to mow the hay.

MAIL QUEEN Just flashed into my head one day. . .another word pun.

CHARM SCHOOL

THE ALL AMERICAN GIRL

More old photos. . .one in a skating costume. At 17, I wanted to join the Ice Follies, to see the World.

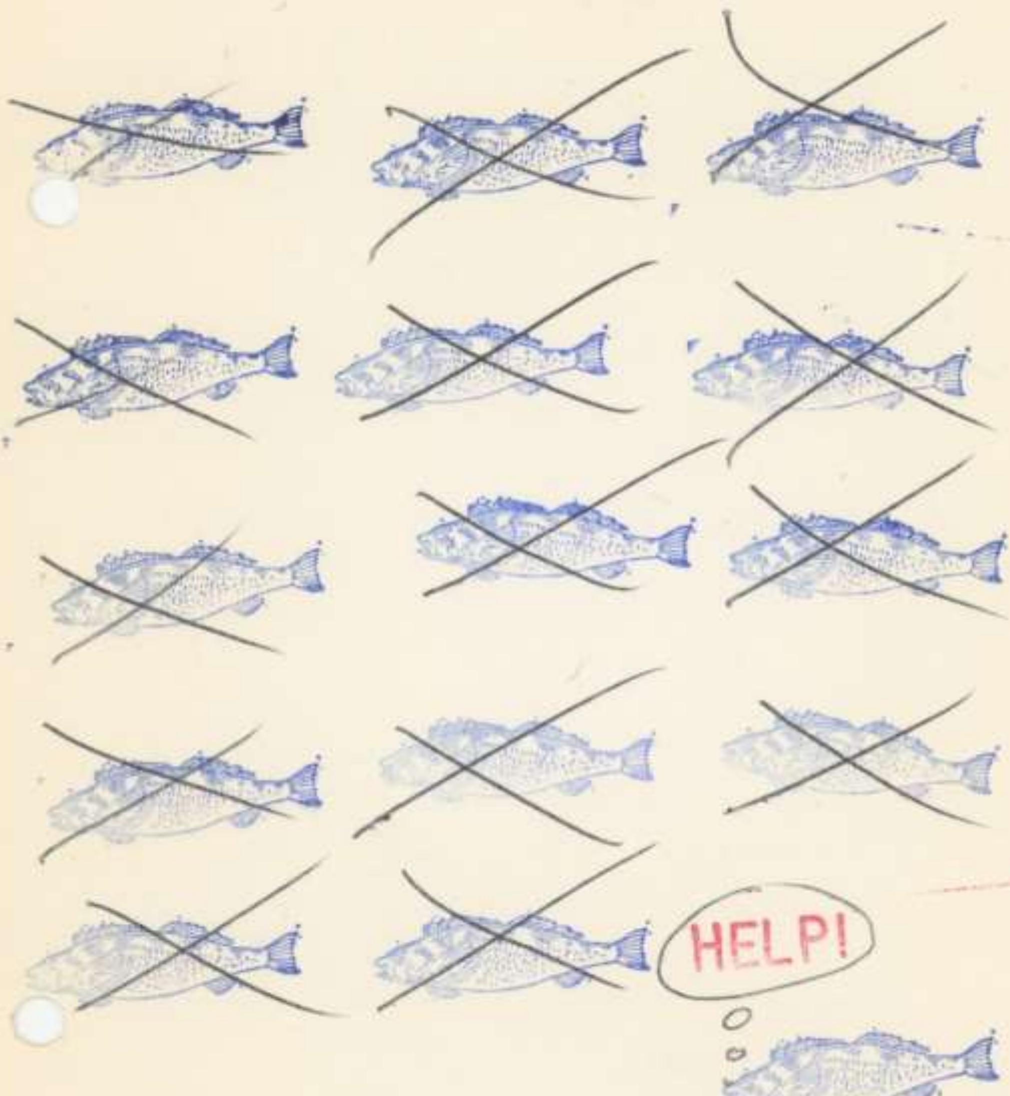

THE PRACTICAL NURSE

More fun and games. . .

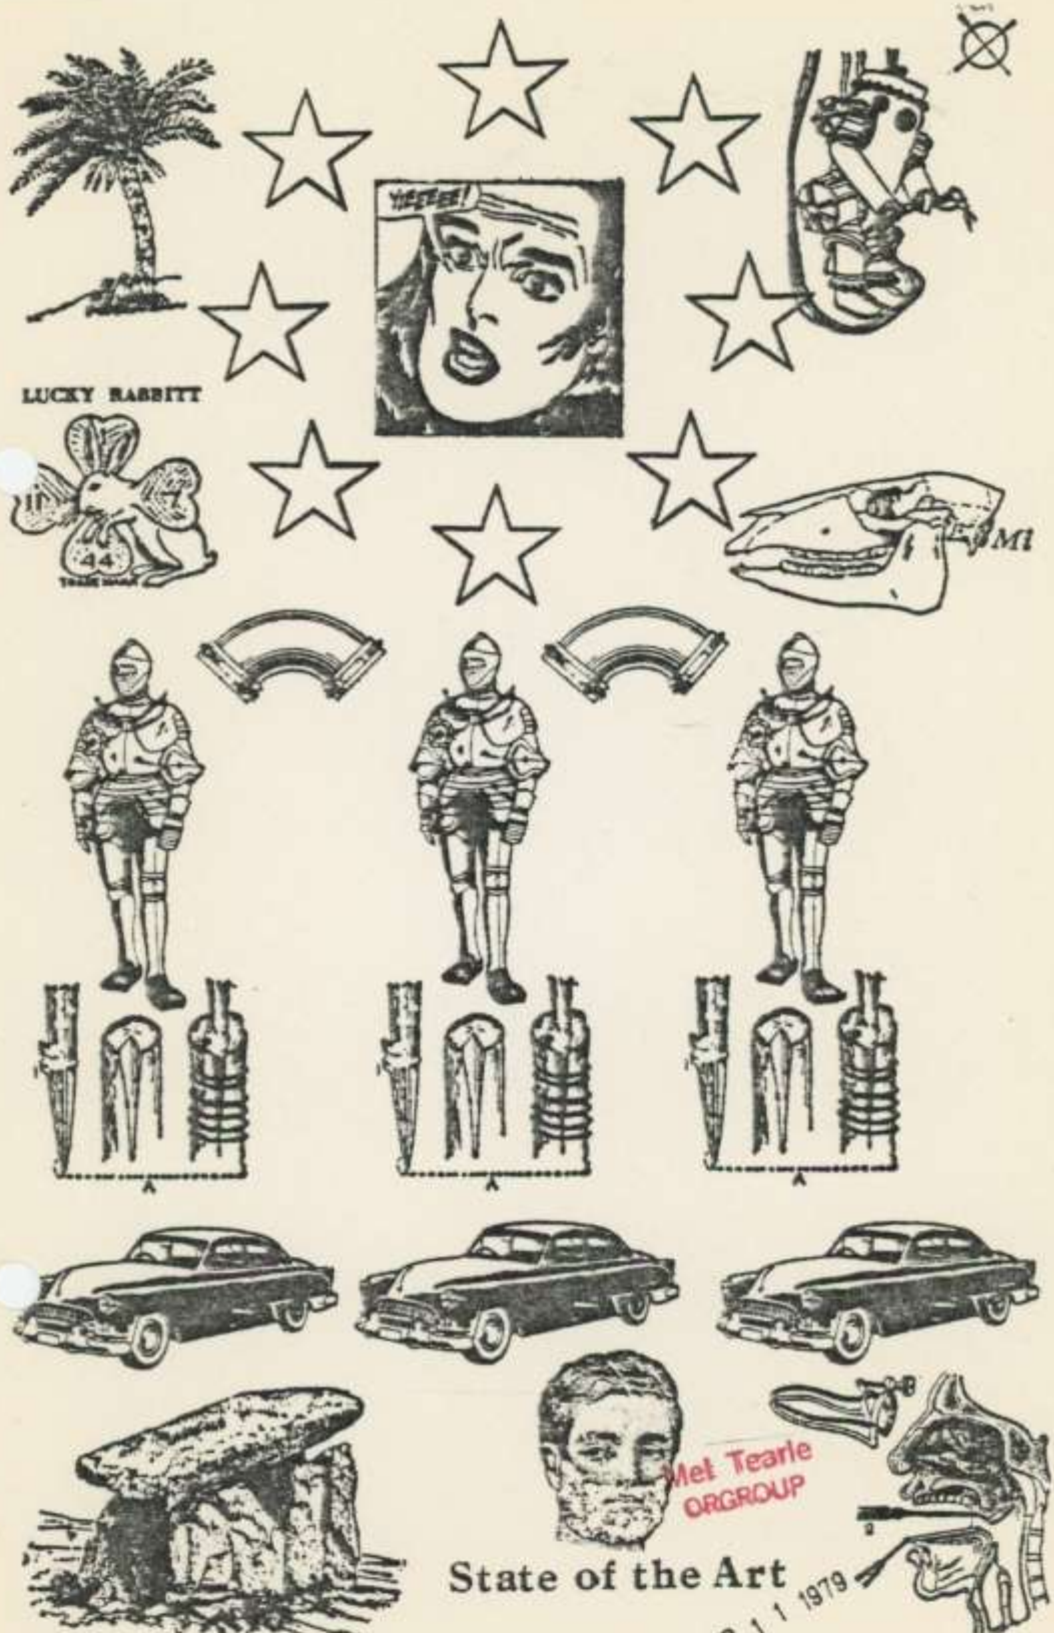

Patricia Tavenner . . .My professional and birthday names.
